CHAPTER ONE: "So you go from being alive to dead... Your bodies turn to skeletons, and your minds go blank... And the area you live in becomes a hellish nightmare... Are you serious? Do you not realize the grave danger this is?"

"What are you talking about?" "I'm telling you, it's all about death. The Dead Line is getting closer and closer... Being alive is a terrible way to live... Everybody wants to be a hero... In the end, everyone is the hero." Life is ultimately an illusion, and the only real line is death. We await the second awakening of the Dead Line after we die. Therefore, we are grateful to those who protect the living world. Many of the current heroes are trying to protect the lives of the people. However, the heroes of the past failed to protect the people from the Dead Line. They are now dead. And so, their memories and appearances are still used as a kind of support for the current heroes. These mortals protecting the living world are the people behind the scenes. "So you could say that being a hero is a kind of curse. It means that people around you will die." The people around me must die... However, I have no other choice but to continue protecting them. It is a symbol that I can continue to protect the living world after all. "Then what about that Dead Line? You said that they are getting closer by the day. Is the Dead Line really going to invade this world soon? If that is the case, what will happen to the world?" (I'm sure a lot of you are asking yourselves those questions right now, too. Ahaha...) "The Dead Line will spread until it invades this world, Then the people living in this world will be killed. However, there is a method for preventing it. The person who can defeat it will become an Elden Lord, and you will be reborn as an undead." "An undead?"
