Ripped Pants at Work is a double-tap, blocky, greyscale stealth game set in various workspaces, each with its own unique blend of breakable objects, touchpad, or nothing at all. To survive, you must exploit your environment by moving through it undetected and collecting items, each with their own unique properties. Get caught stealing something, and you're in for a miserable fall. Ripped Pants at Work is an homage to classic games like Pong and Robotron, with the aim of giving you a quick sense of satisfaction. It is designed with a love of punishing your user, which is important to me. Features - Four levels, each with a completely different environment and set of jobs - Over 300 items, from remote keyboard controls to touchpads, steam cleaners and even office equipment - A great sense of satisfaction - Near instant gratification - Rhythm and audiovisual balance to make you go "hm…" - In-game videos of your favorite animals, celebrities, or poop - Earn achievements - Customize your player - Synonymous with modern office culture Download Ripped Pants at Work is available through the Steam store at a great introductory price, and you can grab it right away. In addition, it is also available for sale through Desura, as well as GOG.com. Table of Contents 1. Special Thanks 2. Introduction 3. About This Game 4. Ripped Pants at Work Needs You 5. About This Game Michael describes Ripped Pants at Work as "a 2D stealth game with an emphasis on really punishing the player." "Stealth is one of those games where it's really important to know yourself – what you're good at and what you're not good at." "I love stealth games, and we love that kind of game, where it's hard to notice someone on purpose, because it's hard to see yourself. I feel like a lot of the time you are 'stealthy' by being invisible. With most games it's like, 'I went stealth! I went

What's new:

Class Sliced Wall Dimension Table (In response to this thread at the WotC forums) Summary: The table that offers the suggested WotC rules for serpent rogues with the new Sliced Wall dimension mechanic. It covers the Elemental Infusions rules as well. The stats follow the Unearthed Arcana Serpent Rogues from the Elemental Infusions rules. Creatures with Sliced Wall attacks use this dimension when they make a Sliced Wall attack or an attack with a component that is based on a Sliced Wall attack. This dimension is available until the beginning of your next turn after the creature makes any series of attacks with the Sliced Wall based attack(s). Domain: Chaotic Strength: 5 | Dexterity: 12 | Constitution: 10 Hit Dice: 1d12 | Class Features 1. Serpent Blade (St – Su): At 1st level, when you take this shortcut to becoming a Serpent Rogues you gain the Ability Score Improvement class feature for your constitution scores. The other class feature (Strength, Dexterity or Wisdom).2. Sliced Wall (Su): Sliced Wall, your weapon forms part of your weapons arm. As a free action, you can breach your weapon arm to one of your weapons to create a wall of elemental energy no longer limited by the plane of water. As an attack action you can make a Sliced Wall attack or perform an attack with a weapon with a Sliced Wall attack. The attack must be made with the weapon arm, any of your weapons, or your set of unarmed attacks. Upon a successful Sliced Wall attack, you deal weapon damage (based on your Int modifier) in addition to the weapon damage for the attack. The damage of a successful attack is halved against undead or constructs. The wall energy lasts for 1 minute per 4 Strength or Intelligence modifier rounded down but can be extended by spending your turn to solidify the wall with each successful attack. You can use your weapon arm as a free action to breach the wall you created as an attack action. When you do so, you may make a normal attack or a ranged attack that ignores the wall energy as normal. If the wall energy disappears (the wall is destroyed), no attack rolls, combat maneuvers, or dodge checks are affected by the wall. The wall doesn't end until the next moment you create or breach it with an attack action, either on your turn, or on an adjacent
