Little Penguins Dining It's not just for breakfast any more. A team from Penguin Tenders has converted a former butcher's shop in Melbourne to its fourth penguin care facility, which will also be its headquarters. The converted shop, known as the Penguin Café, includes a dining area, playroom, lockers and two nest boxes, one for fledglings and the other for adults. Manager Sean Deegan, one of Penguin Tenders' past officials, said the new room will be an important feature when volunteers later start feeding penguins in the mornings before the zoo opens. The Penguin Café will be open to the public for tours and public feedings on April 19, 25 and June 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will be open daily except for occasional periods of maintenance. Public feedings are done on a first-come first-served basis. Tickets, which are priced at $10, can be bought from the Penguin Cafe. Little penguins will also be the focus of the zoo's new "Penguin Café" restaurant. The converted Shops Creek butcher shop,
